To Whom It May Concern There at Quick Response,

On Friday, November 27, 2009 I had my three grandsons ages 8, 4 & 3 to visit overnight. We went to the show and afterwards took them for a ride to see your beautiful, entertaining for both adults and children alike Christmas Light Show.

It was so exciting for us all. To our surprise, we got a train ride, picture with tigger (which my 4 year old grandson said he loved tigger's voice) hot chocolate, coffee, cookies, candies and the most wonderful hospitality (even with the chilled weather) ever. Everyone was so cheerful and in the spirit of the holiday season. I just moved here from Los Angeles a couple of years ago and I must say I am so glad I made the move because of all the great people here. On top of this all, as if it could not get any better – all of this was FREE. Are you kidding me? I could not wait to tell people in LA of what we did and for FREE. What the heck?

Life is good and then sometimes it just gets better. Events like this make the challenges in life go just a bit smoother. See, I don't think you realize just how much your kindness, really makes a difference a lot of our lives.

You are better than a prescription.

Thank you so much, the best to you and your family and may all your days be blessed!

Love,

J. Renée
